Justice Schaffer, of State Supreme Court, to Address Mass Meeting in Ardmore Tonight

Other Prominent Speakers to Participate in Program.

TO REAFFIRM FAITH

Justice William I. Schaffer, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, will be the principal speaker at the mass meeting to be held tonight (Friday) in the Lower Merion Junior High School auditorium.

His subject will be "A New Pledge of Patriotism and Reaffirmation of Faith in American Institutions, Principles and Ideals." The meeting is being held with the idea of restoring confidence in American institutions and eliminating hysteria resulting from the business depression from the section.

The program of the meeting is as follows: Chairman, E. E. Burlingame; patriotic airs, Lower Merion High School Band; invocation, the Rev. D. L. McGinley, rector of St. Colman's Church, Ardmore; remarks, Edward W. Ehmann, chairman of the Main Line Emergency Committee; education, S. E. Downs, superintendent of schools of Lower Merion Township; commerce, Dr. Herbert J. Tily, president of Strawbridge and Clothier and director of the National Chamber of Commerce; industry, Samuel M. Vauclain, chairman of the Board of the Baldwin Locomotive Works; patriotism, Fletcher W. Stites, former State Senator; new pledge of patriotism and reaffirmation of faith in American institutions, Justice Schaffer; trooping of colors, Valley Forge Military Academy; pledge to the flag, the audience; Star-Spangled Banner, doxology, the audience; benediction, the Rev. Andrew Mutch, pastor of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the Main Line Kiwanis Club, which originated the idea, all service, business and civic organizations of the Main Line are backing the meeting and a record-breaking audience is anticipated.

Narberth Children Profit by Fire Prevention Advice

The heeding of advice broadcast during Fire Prevention Week by some Narberth children resulted in prompt and efficient action when a fire broke out Sunday night on the roof of the home of A. C. Miller at 311 North Narberth Avenue, Narberth.

Sparks from the chimney set fire to the roof about 8:30 P. M. when the children, Sam, Robert and Kitty Jane Miller and two companions, Bill Watson and Dan Hess, were alone in the house.

The blaze was discovered by Kitty Jane Miller when she happened to step outside of the house. She immediately notified the others and young Robert, aged 6, who was asleep, was taken next door, and the fire company was called. By the time the firemen arrived the fire was practically out, the children having poured water onto the roof from an upstairs window giving access to it.

Dogs in the house were also removed by the youngsters who, by their actions, showed that they had learned well the suggestions made over the radio.

Addressed Rotarians

EDWARD W. EHMANN
chairman of the Main Line Emergency Committee, who spoke before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday in behalf of concerted effort for relief and business revival.

C. E. to Elect Tonight

The Narberth Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society will hold a social and election of officers this evening at the home of Mrs. H. Smith. Those wishing to attend should meet at the church at 8 o'clock.

Tomorrow the C. E. will join with the Young People's Class in a "doggy roast." Those going will meet at the church at 7:30.

Mr. W. Gifford will have charge of the discussion on Sunday at 6:45. Come and bring your friends. A. E.

Mrs. Laird Hostess

Mrs. Pierre Laird will be the hostess at a bridge tea at her home, 112 Avon Road, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The party is a benefit for St. Margaret's Guild.

Mystery Play, 'Bilked,' to Be First Offering of Narberth Players on November 12 and 13

The Narberth Players will present their first performance of the 1931-32 dramatic season at Elm Hall, November 12 and 13, with a brand-new mystery play, "Bilked," written by Roland G. E. Ulman. Mr. Ulman is a member of the Swarthmore Players, a community players' club of Swarthmore which has had many years' successful life, and through personal friendship with Russell Green, Narberth Players' president, is permitting the club here to produce his play.

A capable cast has been selected and rehearsals began on Monday of this week. A feature of the "first night" will be the presence of Lawrence Shubert, well-known theatrical producer, who wants to consider the possibilities of the play from a professional standpoint. Undoubtedly Mr. Shubert will be prevailed upon to say a few words at this auspicious opening of Narberth's Community Theatre, and undoubtedly he is going to address a "full house."

Fashion Show Tuesday

If you did not see the Fashion Show which the Community Club enjoyed at its last meeting you must certainly have heard of it. Mrs. Suzanne Joret Gill and Mrs. Joseph Miller, together with their aides, have very kindly offered to repeat the show at the Legion Auxiliary meeting to be held 8:30 P. M. Tuesday in the Legion room. All the women of Narberth are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.—(J. H.)

John Mowrer Elected Legion Commander

Chosen at Meeting of Executive Committee of Post on Monday.

BEEN MEMBER SINCE 1920

John A. Mowrer, Jr., was elected Commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, of Narberth, at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Post held on Monday night.

A member of the Post since 1920, Mr. Mowrer has been its finance officer for seven years and served one year as adjutant. His election to the commandiership was unanimous.

In commenting on the election, the retiring commander, Frank A. Schrepper, said: "I am very happy to see a man elected who not only has the proper qualifications but has also earned the honor by long service to the Post."

In addition to Mr. Mowrer's years of service, he has also been a delegate to State Conventions and has represented the Post in the affairs of the 9th District.

A resolution was adopted, expressing to Manager Maurice Freed and the staff of the Narberth Theatre, the Post's appreciation of their co-operation on the occasion of the lecture given at the theatre last spring for the benefit of the welfare work of the Post.

Plans are going ahead for the annual Armistice Day banquet to be held in the Legion Room. Prominent speakers are being secured whose names will be announced at a later date.

Petition County for Road Appropriation

Parts of Haverford and Windsor
Avenues to Be Resurfaced
If It Is Granted.

SEEK $3000 OF FUND

The County Commissioners will be petitioned by the Borough of Narberth for $3000 of a special fund of $100,000 made available by the County for road work to aid unemployment. A recommendation to this effect was adopted at a special meeting of Council on Wednesday night.

If the petition is granted, the money together with $3000 appropriated by the Borough, will be used to resurface Haverford Avenue between Narberth and Essex Avenues, and Windsor Avenue from Wynnewood Avenue as far east as the funds available, after completing Haverford Avenue, will permit.

The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee of Council on the matter at the special meeting follows:

"We have been officially notified by the Commissioners of Montgomery County that they have made available a special fund of $100,000 to be expended on Township and Borough streets and bridges to aid unemployment and that that sum will be allocated to the townships and boroughs which are willing to appropriate for expenditure at the same time and for the same purpose a sum equal to that which is allocated by the County, with the proviso that not more than $15,000 of the County appropriation shall be given to any township or borough."

"We are further informed that ap-

Loyalty Campaign Climax Is Sunday

Results of Intensive Efforts to Be Announced
Then.

OPPORTUNITY TO HELP

This Sunday, October 18, has been placed on the program of the Narberth Methodist Church as their Loyalty Offering Sunday. At this time the results of the intensive effort which has been made for the last ten days to secure pledges to cover the ensuing three years for the further reduction of their indebtedness will be announced. The teams of canvassers which have visited all the members of the congregation have already made preliminary reports of such a character as indicates a commendable total amount. It is hoped that additional pledges as yet unannounced will be made at the services of that day.

The basis of this appeal has been entirely of a spiritual nature. No high-pressure methods have been used by professional canvassers. The results are the outcome of a friendly spirit of church co-operation in which all have united. The character of the canvass which has named $36 as the common share and the personal conferences which have been held prior to the signing of a pledge convince the officials of the church that this will be an unusual bonafide sum of money

Good Shows at Narberth

Continuing its good shows, this week-end the Narberth Theatre presents comedians Wheeler and Woolsey, aided by Dorothy Lee, in a drug store comedy, "Caught Plastered." Next Monday and Tuesday, a take-off on Aimee Semple MacPherson, California evangelist, is coming; Barbara Stanwyck in "The Miracle Woman." "Huckleberry Finn," carrying on cinema's pleasing versions of Mark Twain's boyhood tales, will bring Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green, Jackie Scarl, etc., to the borough playhouse Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and also for matinees Wednesday and Thursday.

James Dunn and Sally Eilers star in Frank Borsage's pleasing adaptation of Vina Delmar's sensational and touching story, "Bad Girl," coming to Narberth next Friday and Saturday.

—At the Egyptian

Not a musical comedy but a straight comedy drama adapted from the original "Honeymoon Lane," is Eddie Dowling's feature at the Egyptian Theatre this Friday and Saturday. In the cast are Noah Beery, June Collyer, Raymond Hatton, Mary Carr and the new comedy sensation, Ray Dooley. Very funny and interesting.

Also on the week-end bill: Wheeler and Woolsey in a new twenty-minute comedy; a cartoon and news reel, and Harvey Harman, Penn's new coach, in the first of a new series of football subjects.

Richard Arlen and Peggy Shannon star in "The Secret Call," a political story, which is coming to Cynwyd Monday and Tuesday. Following it will be "Murder by the Clock," in which Lilyan Tashman, Regis Toomey, Sally O'Neill and William Boyd will thrill and amuse; it is not the sort of picture for an impressionable child to see before going to bed; very exciting, mysterious and full of murders; and with a good plot and splendid photography and acting, withal.

Don't miss Maurice Chevalier and Claudette Colbert in "The Smiling Lieutenant," which will play at the Egyptian next week-end. Charlie Ruggles and Miriam Hopkins are in it; Ernst Lubitsch produced it nicely, and there's some Oscar Straus music. Even better than Chevalier's previous pictures.

Miss Martin Appointed New Health Service Director

The appointment of Miss Mildred E. Martin as Director of the Health Service of the Community Health and Civic Association was made at the meeting of the Health Committee of this Association held on Tuesday. She succeeds Miss Rose M. Ehrenfeld, whose resignation, due to illness, was accepted in August.

Miss Martin has been associated with the Health Service as Field Supervisor since May, 1928, previous to which she worked as a supervisor with the Philadelphia Visiting Nurse Society. She is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital Training School for Nurses and has had the post-graduate course in Public Health Nursing at the Pennsylvania School of Social and Health Work.

D. A. R. Plans Luncheon to Celebrate 10th Anniversary

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R. will celebrate their tenth anniversary by a reciprocity luncheon to be held at the Narberth Methodist Church on Saturday, October 24, at 1 P. M.

The regular opening meeting of the chapter will be a luncheon meeting at one o'clock on Monday, October 19, at the home of the regent, Mrs. Hugh Glenn Martin, 207 Wayne Avenue, Narberth. The speaker will be Mrs. Blanche Pennington. Her subject will be "Our Navy."

Hold Rally Service

A Rally Day service was held on Sunday at 2:30 P. M. in the Narberth Scout House. This Sunday School is a branch of Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia, and Miss Margaret Armour and Miss Frances Armour are in charge. A history of the school was read by Miss Armour. Dr. Floyd Tomkins was present and gave an interesting address followed by a closing prayer. Rewards given to the children by Dr. Tomkins.

Library Trustees Elect

Mrs. William Goodall, of Dudley Avenue, has been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Narberth Community Library to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her sister, Miss Anna Mackeag, former president of the board. Robert M. Cameron, of Montgomery Avenue, has also been elected to the board to fill a vacancy caused by a resignation.

Wet and Dry Is Big Issue, Declares Hess

A large and enthusiastic group of women attended the first luncheon meeting of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women on Wednesday at the Green Lantern Lodge Tea Room, Wynnewood. Peter C. Hess, Township Treasurer and Republican leader, was the speaker, his topic being "What We as Republicans Have to Look Forward to in Future Months."

According to Mr. Hess, politics are changing so rapidly that the old-time politician has a hard time to keep up with the various angles in political life and to solve the many perplexities. Mr. Hess spoke of the coming primary in the spring and the coming nominations. Delegates to the National Convention will be elected from all over Pennsylvania to represent the voters in the National Convention, who will, in turn, select the nominee for President and Vice President. Both of the major parties, said Mr. Hess, still stick to this convention method in the selection for their candidates for these offices. The Republican Convention always meets first, thereby giving the Democrats a greater chance to trim their sails accordingly.

There will be a very bitter contest this year all over the nation and the great question will be the Wet and Dry. Mr. Hess opined, for there are both wet and dry factions in both the major parties. "This question of Wet and Dry should never enter in a National Campaign," he said, "but, nevertheless, it is going to, which will result in a mixed and perplexing affair."

Many Attractions at Firemen's Carnival Next Week

The Firemen's Carnival in Elm Hall will be opened with a delicious cafeteria supper next Friday evening consisting of many good things to eat, such as roast beef, baked ham, vegetables and many good desserts for both the old and young. This is an opportunity to get a deliciously cooked home dinner at a very reasonable price. The cafeteria supper will be served from 5 until 7 on the lower floor. On the same floor will be the radio game. After having partaken of a good supper one should pass to the upper floor before leaving where the Carnival Hall will be found filled with booths of all kinds of useful things, novelties and toys, candies, cakes and many other interesting articles. There will be a grocery table filled with many staple articles which have been donated. Many kinds of aprons have been supplied for this table and are real bargains. On the toy table there will be little fire engines with a siren and which will spray water. These will be sold and the lucky winner of one of these will have a jolly time with it.

A number of attractively dressed doll-babies may be had for the little girl and many other interesting toys, some of which will be sold as low as ten cents.

For those who care to try their luck there will be a canary bird and cage, floor lamps, rugs, watches for both a man and woman, a box of Heinz's goods, a ton of coal and many electrical appliances.

Rides on the fire truck will be sold to the children for ten cents a ride.

A joint meeting of the Mulieres and Firemen was held in the Fire Hall on Tuesday and also another meeting next Thursday evening, when the final arrangements of the carnival for the benefit of the Fire Company will be completed.

On both Friday and Saturday evenings Forest Avenue will be closed to traffic from Haverford to Windsor Avenue during the period from 7 to 12 o'clock.

Many Attend First Junior Club Meeting

The first meeting of the Junior Community Club was held at the Scout room of the Community Building on Thursday evening, October 8. Supper was served, buffet style, at 6:30 and a splendid gathering attended.

Mrs. Ellsworth B. Clark, president, presided at the meeting held after the supper and extended a greeting to the members and guests expressing the hope that succeeding meetings would prove as good from an attendance standpoint as the first. Mrs. Clark called for reports from the various chairmen, and among those presenting plans for the future club activities were Mrs. B. F. Keenan, senior-junior chairman; Mrs. James D. Moore, social program chairman; Miss Margaret Kent, speaker program chairman; Miss Virginia Steinfeld, chairman of music; Miss Alberta Davis, chairman of finance; Mrs. Harold Griest, membership chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Cooke, house committee chairman. Mrs. P. A. Wales, assistant senior-junior chairman, was introduced to the girls and Mrs. J. A. Hongler, the senior president, attending as guest of the club, made a short speech of greeting from the seniors.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Arthur Waters who gave an interesting summary of the activities of the Professional Players as anticipated for the coming season. The club always enjoys Mrs. Waters.

The next meeting will be October 22 at the Scout room at 8:30 P. M. and will be a Halloween party. Everyone is asked to come in costume and bring as a partner a prospective member. Games and a farce-sketch have been planned, with refreshments and music as additional attractions. Don't miss it, juniors and juniors' friends!

How to Kill the Grubs

The Pennsylvania State College Extension Service advises that lawns and gardens should be treated with poisons now to kill Japanese beetle grubs. Arsenate of lead is recommended for this purpose. Treatment at this time will not only aid in curbing the beetles next summer but will prevent widespread destruction of the roots of grass and other vegetation by the grubs. To be of any value, the application must be made before the grubs go deeper into the soil for the winter.

BUSINESS BITS

Of William T. McIntyre's stores on the Main Line, two have vanished, leaving units still in Overbrook, Ardmore and Bryn Mawr. Narberth's unit was closed two years ago, and this month the store at City Line near Old Lancaster Road ceased to do business. Mr. McIntyre for a long time has done little or no advertising.

The Village Gift Shop this week was opened at 177 City Line, near Old Lancaster Road, with an attractive assortment of gifts, bridge prizes, sewing necessities, etc. Its owner, Mrs. Isabel Bauch, lives near it on Stoneway Lane, Bala, is the widow of an aviation officer, and until six months ago lived at Lakehurst.

Fresh green paint now adorns half the business places on the south side of Haverford Avenue, starting at the Narberth Coal Company building—a pleasing manifestation of pride in Narberth's business section and of desire to please the borough residents. The Narberth Hardware Company came in for its coat of paint Wednesday. Mrs. Herrschaft's shop looked a bit pale in contrast—which isn't a bad idea. Before snow flurries, a couple of stores painted red or burnt orange might brighten up things a bit.

Kirscht's barber shop, up the hill on Narberth Avenue, has just been vastly improved and modernized; better lighting, more uniform mirrors, newly painted walls, and comfortable new chairs. How many residents remember who occupied the shop before it became what it is? Until six years ago Ray Weiss used it as an automobile showroom for Chryslers.

Quite a bit of service is offered by Roy Kessinger's Sunshine Service Station, at Narberth and Montgomery Avenues. The cheerful, accommodating lads there are offering for one dollar to give a complete greasing and lubrication that will last for a guaranteed thousand miles.

Chester P. Cook is advertising that his Narberth Bridge Garage is selling American Oil Company products, and with characteristic frankness he declares "its merchandise is like the company itself—liberal and on the level." Which is a nice recommendation for any company.

Davis' and other stores are making the town Halloween conscious with pleasing window displays.

The Kirsch Chevrolet Company, serving Cynwyd and Narberth, suggests that motors be retuned and adjusted with the coming of wide temperature ranges of this season of the year.

"One of the distinct advantages of the modern automobile over its early predecessors," Mr. Kirsch says, "is found in the fact that the motor today can be adjusted to give maximum performance in all seasons. A motorist who drives through the winter with a car adjusted to summer weather conditions deprives himself of much of the car's capacity for performance and needlessly increases its operating expense."

"The carburetor should be checked, and the valves should be adjusted to prevent loss of compression. The ignition system, especially the timing, should be cleaned thoroughly and checked for proper adjustment; the proper functioning of the ignition system is essential to easy starting on cold mornings."

Other suggestions made include a thorough flushing out and cleaning of the cooling system; draining and flushing the crankcase and refilling with a good grade of oil. And, perhaps most important of all, the brakes should be adjusted, or, if necessary, relined.

Bryn Mawr Hospital Elects

To Shake the Glooms

The days of Liberty Loan drives will be remembered tonight when citizens of the Main Line gather at the Junior High School building in Ardmore. The meeting, fostered by the service clubs and other local groups, is to stir things up, to awaken a realization of what we have and what we may attain, and to reaffirm faith in our country and our neighbors.

A big program, 'tis true, but a subject of such importance that, if the Main Line leads the way, other parts of our country will surely follow to some degree.

Of course, there is no thought in the minds of the men who conceived the plan that a mere meeting will blow away all the problems, the worries and the handicaps which all of us are meeting. Rather, the gathering is to stir up some badly-needed courage which can be applied to these problems.

There are fine speakers scheduled, and your neighbors will be there. Come and join this community meeting.

Facts and Figures

Last year an army of census enumerators went forth, knocking at doors, and writing facts and figures in heavy books. The results of these figures have been gathered together, computed and gradually reduced to print. This week the Bureau of the Census released many interesting facts concerning Lower Merion Township.

The tabulations show many interesting things about the Township. For example, we follow the State in having more female than male inhabitants, but run behind the average in the percentage of native-born white residents. Lower Merion has 76% native-born white; the State, 82%. One negro population is 8.3%, where the State's is 4.5%.

But it is in the significant matters of literacy and school attendance that Lower Merion stands out. 97.7% of our children from 7 to 13 years attend school, and 97% of those of 14 and 15. In both figures we beat the State average. In the 16 and 17-year age group, where many children are permitted to drop out, Lower Merion retains 76.1% in the schools, where the Statewide average is only 48.6%.

In the Senior High School and early college ages of 18 to 20, Lower Merion stands still higher. A percentage of 42.7% is shown, as against a State average of only 17.2%. Truly this is an index to the type of resident. Compared with our neighbors of Conshohocken, across the river, the remarkable size of this latter figure is emphasized, for Conshohocken boasts but 9.1%. Lower Merion also bests the Montgomery County average for these latter groups by a healthy margin.

Literacy is high here. The percentage of illiteracy is but 1.1%, as compared with a State average of 3.1% and a county average of 2.5%. Education of our foreign-born is successful as shown by an illiteracy figure of only 4.6%, compared with the State average of 15.4% and the county figure of 13.4%.

In the State as a whole, more men confessed to being married than did the ladies, but in Lower Merion 7508 women seem to be married to 7156 men!

Motoring Students

Anyone seriously worried about the state of Main Line finances should pay a visit some day to Lower Merion or Radnor High Schools and observe the number of cars parked around the school grounds. The days of walking seem to be passing forever, for every boy or girl old enough to possess a license and lucky enough to possess indulgent parents is driving to class.

A few years ago nothing less than an intersectional football game would have drawn such a collection of roadsters, sedans and phaetons. Strangely enough, few of them are of the $10 collegiate variety.

Soon the schools will have to add a course in walking, so as to prevent the younger generation from forgetting altogether the method by which five miles of pedal locomotion may be accomplished.

The increasing number of falling leaves makes driving a dangerous task on wet days. Watch the skids.

To the Editor of Our Town:

Why Bates Should Be in Council

In common with many other Narberthites, I have paid very little attention to the working of our local government. Were it less efficient perhaps some of us would more seriously interest ourselves in the affairs which are administered by our Councilmen at no small sacrifice of time and energy. Curiosity as to why my friend Clifford Bates failed of nomination for Council on the Republican ticket and why his name will appear only upon the Democratic ballot at the forthcoming election brought to light, for me at least, one phase of the local situation in which every citizen should interest himself. In telling my fellow-citizens of my findings I hope that others will be aroused as I have been to the necessity for keeping in closer touch with local affairs.

All of us have read in "Our Town" of hearings which had been held by Council on zoning. The majority of us are in favor of the ordinances which have been adopted but few of us are aware that their continuance is constantly being threatened, which may be a reason why Mr. Bates' name will not appear on the Republican ballot. If we want a strict enforcement of our zoning laws we ought to help by putting Mr. Bates back in Council. In any event, draw your own conclusions from the succeeding paragraphs which contain the information my curiosity caused me to seek from reliable sources.

A year or more ago Mr. Baird Caldwell desired to erect a gasoline filling station on a corner lot which he owns on the Narberth side of Montgomery Avenue. Under the zoning ordinance, which restricts that property to residential uses, it was impossible to grant the building permit for which he applied. He appealed to the Adjustment Board, as is provided in the zoning ordinance for such cases, and the Board declined to grant his petition. He then went before the Borough Council and asked what he could do. He was told informally that the only possible next step was for him to circulate a petition among the property owners on Montgomery Avenue, asking to have their properties put into a business zone and to present that petition to Council which has authority to amend the zoning ordinance.

Mr. Caldwell circulated such a petition and presented it to Council in proper form. The signatures on it represented a large majority of the property owners on Montgomery Avenue from Narberth Avenue east to Meeting House Lane. As is required by the ordinance itself the Ordinance and Law Committee of Council advertised and held a public hearing on this matter. That hearing was well attended by property owners, who had signed the petition and an informal vote indicated that a very large majority of them were in favor of the proposal. There were some objectors, notably people whose properties would adjoin the proposed new business section, but would not be included in it.

This public hearing advertised the fact that the zoning ordinance was under discussion with a possibility of amendment and brought before Council Mrs. E. C. Town, and later Dr. E. C. Town and Dr. R. C. Hoffman, who asked that their properties on Windsor Avenue should also be included in a business zone by amendment of the ordinance. They were told that they should present a petition from the property owners involved which they later did. Their petition, however, appeared to contain names of persons who were tenants rather than property owners, although some Windsor Avenue property owners were included and others were conspicuously absent. A hearing was held on that petition and disclosed less unanimity of sentiment in its favor by the property interests involved than was the case with Montgomery Avenue.

These matters were all given careful and deliberate consideration and discussion by the members of Council who came to the conclusion that there had been nothing to indicate that a majority of the voters of Narberth were in favor of modifying the present restrictions of the zoning ordinance and that while the situation of the Montgomery Avenue property owners was one which was undoubtedly irksome to them and which, therefore, merited sympathy, no evidence had been brought out that any of them had received firm offers from interests who wished to buy for the purpose of business development. There were indications that if the Montgomery Avenue petition should be granted, there would probably ensue there, temporarily at least, a type of business development which in appearance at least would be detrimental to the borough as a whole. It was decided, therefore, to deny the petition without prejudice and with the expectation that the desires of those property owners could be granted at a later time when general business had improved and brought with it the possibility of a desirable business development on their properties.

Out of that decision of Council grew the candidacy of Mr. Mowrer which was based on an intention to obtain a modification of the zoning ordinance and which seemed to be directed especially at Councilman Bates, whose term was expiring, and who, as chairman of the Ordinance and Law Committee, had been obliged to preside at the public hearings. Mr. Bates devoted to the subject of the petition much time and attention and drew up an outline of the proposed Montgomery Avenue business section which was exceedingly difficult to do because of physical complications there. He was patient, conscientious and thoroughgoing, but he was not in favor of granting the petition and did not side-step.

Mr. Mowrer won the Republican nomination in the primaries, defeating Mr. Bates, who, however, was nominated on the Democratic ticket.

In the November election Mr. Bates' name will appear on the Democratic ballot. He is a Republican. Mr. Mowrer's name will appear in the Republican column, but the question to be settled by the voters is not the respective merits of these two men, but whether the zoning ordinance should be modified to permit business developments here and there as may be desired by property owners who wish to sell out and move somewhere else where, no doubt, the residential character of the community is maintained. That is the issue: The maintenance of the residential character of Narberth. If one section is opened for business others must be in fairness. It has been disclosed that just as soon as one section is under discussion another will come forward and ask to be considered.

A vote for Mr. Bates is an endorsement of the present policy of maintaining the present restrictions until at least the end of this depression and the disclosure of a real community need for further extension of business development. A vote for Mr. Mowrer is a vote in favor of a change in that policy.

To the Editor of Our Town:

"Earth gets its price for what earth gives us;

The beggar is taxed for a corner to die in;

The priest has his fee who comes and shrives us;

We bargain for the graves we lie in: At the devil's booth are all things sold.

Each ounce of dross counts its ounce of gold;

For a cap and bells our lives we pay, Bubbles we buy with the whole soul's tasking;

'Tis heaven alone that is given away, 'Tis only God may be had for the asking."

While sitting in my cellar a night or so ago ruminating on the past, present and future, thoughts of the recent primary election finally intruded themselves.

Here we are in Lower Merion Township with the highest real estate assessments and rates of taxation in our history and we believe that we are safe in saying the highest of any in the records of recorded time; that is to say, from Egypt to modern England.

Our assessment is based on the insane sale prices of 1926, notwithstanding that those prices have dropped from 40 per cent. to 80 per cent.

No properties have been overlooked, not even a graveyard. The rich with their few acres of evergreens have been made to pay and pay and pay.

"Rob the rich and mace the poor" has been the rule and not the exception during recent years in Lower Merion.

Oh, no, the County of Montgomery is not in debt, but its people are rolling in debts. Montgomery County has no overhead and with Norristown, the fifth largest city in our State, Abington, Cheltenham and Lower Merion Townships really counties in wealth and resources, Montgomery County has the equivalent of four counties combined in one and the county tax should not be over one-fourth of the present rate.

Our present people certainly love to pay taxes. Had they lived in the days of one George III and when his Parliament passed the stamp act there would have been no George Washington parade through New Jersey, no Valley Forge, Brandywine or Yorktown. No, indeed; there wouldn't! They would have paid the tax and added 10 per cent. just to show the old king how proud they were in being asked to help along in the financial bills of Empire.

I am getting away from the primary. Well, here we were a month or so before the primary election with all the organization politicians resting serenely in their hammocks away above our heads and a lot of the rest of us down below falling over each other in the darkness of despair and wondering why our tax bills were so big and where we were going to borrow the money with which to pay same when out stepped Young and Walzer and volunteered in a gentlemanly manner to go and see what was wrong. Here in Narberth we didn't know that such things were out of order and were astonished to see the organization fellows grab each other around the necks and yell as if Al Capone had them on the spot.

Are we correct in surmising that our Lower Merion branch of the Johnson organization is following in the footsteps of the Philadelphia wreckers, that its code in the future follow that good old rule, the ancient rule—"To let him take who hath the power and to let him keep who can"?

We have no criticism to offer insofar as the Lower Merion policeman of brains and experience is concerned, but will it always be open season for our citizens when youth, conceit and arrogance goes forth clothed and armed with the majesty of the law?

The first half is over and the score is Boyd, 0; Johnson, 12, but we want to say to Mr. Johnson's organization that in the second half to be played next spring that our side will present a reinforced line-up that will fight with the zeal of "Gideon's Band" and near the finish we shall hope for a re-enactment of a celebrated historical scene when a certain king said to his Prime Minister: "The people are showing discontentment," and hope for the same sad reply, viz.: "Nay, sire, this is revolution!"

Yours truly,
C. P. COOK.

Just as vitamins in food provide nourishment, carbon in coal produces heat. Science makes it clear to us which vitamins each food contains; now by chemical analysis, we learn how much carbon each coal contains. Repeated analyses of Jeddo-Highland show that it runs consistently higher in carbon than any other anthracite.

Among the citations from the Bible is the following: "Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father" (1 John 2:24).

The student body enjoyed her singing very much, and the songs that she sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by Little; "Sioux Serenade," by Lieurance, and "The Floral Dance," an English Folk Song, were all beautiful compositions.

Narberth Legion Commander Sees War as Holocaust of Folly and Futility

The following address was given before a meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom at the Penn Athletic Club by Frank A. Schrepfer, of Narberth, Commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post.

Thirteen years ago a staggering civilization stood aghast when the final act of the world's greatest and most pitiful drama came to its soul-shaking close. Millions of men were dead—millions mangled, while the Horsemen of the Apocalypse reined in their steeds, exhausted, after the mad gallop of four fateful years. Who can count the toll of treasure spent, the property destroyed, the hearts broken, the spirits shattered, in this grim Comedy of Human Error? And to what purpose? Shall we question the motives of the men who died? Shall we question the bitterness of those who survive?

I come to you today to speak for peace, not as a suave statesman or shouting chauvinist; not as apologist for humanity, but as a soldier. I speak not of geography, of empire, trade or international relationships. I speak to you of pain and misery, of grief and humiliation, that are the price the soldier pays.

It is almost thirteen years to the hour that I stood with a dozen or so men on a hill overlooking the remains that bore the label of the village of Very. Before us and about us spread the grim panorama of desolation that follows in the wake of war. My companions were young men, boys, in the fullest vigor of youth. The oldest, perhaps thirty, the youngest twenty. Among that group were men dear to me, dear to me because of qualities discovered in the merciless test of proximity during a companionship that began in Mexico in 1916. Five of us were fast friends. We loved life only less than the thrill of living. We were twenty-one years or so of age in October of 1918, and we considered ourselves veterans of a sort. Behind us lay more than two years of grueling march under desert sun, wearying monotony of protracted drill, the discomfort of troop travel, and some battles at the front. We had gone together sharing good with evil, hardship and frolic. We knew about each other, and were fond of each other with an affection deeper than the forces that created it.

Those of you who do not know—picture to yourself the warm sunshine of an October afternoon, the lingering wine of a clear autumn atmosphere when the heart beats joyously with life and the intoxication of youthful vigor. Then try to feel the sudden tightening of nerves, the crawl of muscles, and the pounding agitation of brain and artery with the sudden clang and crash of arriving shells. Two shells neatly placed some forty yards in front of us, and the next two about as far behind our position. Experience and instinct flashed a warning—"They are bracketing us." We know some distant unseen enemy gunner is feeling for us—we know that the next salvo will strike. There is only a moment left for a shouted warning and a hurried scramble to earth. And then the red flash of annihilation, a whispering crash of sound, a moment of oblivion, and then a consciousness of agony unendurable.

Can you forgive the bitterness that creeps into my voice when I speak of my friends who died by the shell that blasted my arm from my living body, blinded my eyes, broke my bones, and destroyed the dreams and ambitions of a life? I belong to that generation of men of whom Erich Remarque said, "They are dead though they have survived, for the world as they knew it has been destroyed."

Let the race of man review the record of slaughter—by Babylonian and Assyrian, Mede and Persian, Greek and Roman, Crusader and Saracen, by the hordes of Chengiz Khan, and

FRANK A. SCHREPFER

Beber, and Akbar, by Spaniard, Frenchman, Briton, Russian, German, Italian or American. The horrible and staggering truth remains—men slain in battle die in vain.

In the face of the facts, imagine my horrified amazement when, within the year, I heard a member of the superior court of a neighboring county declare that the vast benefits of the World War would have justified the extinction of the entire generation of men who fought! If a generous fate could give me just one hour of my life to live over, I would beg the boon that I might spend the hour in the company of that gentleman on one hellish afternoon in October of 1918, when young men died quickly and horribly.

Who will reckon the price of mangled limbs and shattered minds?—of maimed bodies and twisted souls? Again and again, it is the price of human pain and suffering. What of the properties and treasures destroyed, of chattels and goods lost? The bowels of the earth and the teeming fertility of her soil will yield them anew. But not so the genius of man, the skill of hands, the power of intellects destroyed. There will remain forever a void of existence crying aloud for that which might have been, but for human folly.

There are no words of condemnation too strong, no epithet too stinging, no rebuke too sharp, for the folly and futility of war.

And while we condemn, let us not forget that the virtues bred of war are alluring ones. Men and women have always paid tribute to courage and heroism, and have distinguished those exhibiting these qualities. The badge of courage is an enticing bauble, whether it be the lion-maned headdress of a Massai warrior or the bear-claw necklace of an Apache, or the gleaming scarlet ribbon of the Legion of Honor. Remembering the brave folly of those who wear the glittering metal and gaudy cloth of civilization's token, let man remember also the agony and the pain, the distress and the heart-break, the bitterness and the horror that are war.

And in the blinding flash of truth, let man turn away from the futility of war, and lift his eyes upward, upward indeed, "to the hills that are white," gleaming white with the promise of greater understanding, greater sympathy, greater love and a peace that passeth understanding.

Announce Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Alburger, of Meadow Lane, Merion, have announced this week the marriage of their daughter, Miss Florence May Alburger, and Mr. Albert Wyman Brownell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brownell, of Anthwyn Road, on Tuesday, June 23, at West Chester, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Brownell are at home at 350 Meadow Lane, Merion.

Junior High Eleven Beats Collingdale, 18-0

The Orange and Black Leopard of Lower Merion Junior High School completely outclassed the second team of Collingdale High School last Thursday afternoon on Pennypacker Field by scoring three touchdowns in the last half to win, 18 to 0.

Mike Zengel, of Bryn Mawr, scored all three touchdowns by some heads-up football. His fifty-yard run in the third quarter was followed by his final touchdown which came suddenly as he caught an enemy pass on his twenty-yard line and ran untouched across the goal.

Coach Dick Mattis did not have the opportunity to work his reserves very much in this game, as the varsity was forced to the limit throughout the first three quarters of the game. The ground was a sea of mud throughout the game as intermittent showers continued all afternoon.

The team goes to Pottstown this afternoon to engage the Junior High School of that thriving Dutch country in a return encounter. Lower Merion has won from them two years in succession.

Latent Power Seen in Maroon Eleven

Buek's Kicking and Work of Other Backs Encouraging to Followers.

HAVE FIGHTING SPIRIT

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Lower Merion deserved a victory over Cheltenham Saturday because of a second half offensive which showed a lot of latent power in this year's maroon team.

A two touchdown victory was fair enough, and not even a critic could ask for more from such a green team as Adam has. There were several things to feel good about, if you are interested in the welfare of football at Lower Merion.

Buek's punting is the best we have seen since Paul Scull ceased his kicking endeavors on Pennypacker Field. Harvey still can improve considerably in this matter, but he has a good foundation, and he should improve with every contest. Herb Thomas is improving rapidly in his quarterback business. He was no better last Saturday, but his work in the West Catholic game was very good.

Bob Taylor looked much, much better as a ball carrier against the Elkins Park aggregation. The Cynwyd boy may yet be a slashing, hard running ground gainer.

As one of the local football enthusiasts recently remarked, "Locavelli? Why that boy is a sweetheart." And he is. The chances are good for young Mike to be one of the finest running backs ever developed on Pennypacker Field. He is the goods. Just keep a steady head, Mike, and don't forget, you have all of your football experience ahead of you and there's much to learn about the game.

On black and white, Haverford should win tomorrow afternoon. The only drawback is the indomitable spirit of the Maroon Bulldog. I have yet to see a Maroon team that didn't have guts, and though the boys are green, Coach Adam remarked with spirit, "Well, believe me, I'm betting on my boys to win. Yes, sir, they've got the grit and stuff." Well, if the coach feels that way, maybe it will be a football game. What boy would not fight for a coach who is for them like that?

'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Abington, Haverford, Radnor, three stumbling blocks in the path of the Maroon football team, all won their games last week. So did Norristown, and while we are on the subject don't overlook the big team from the county seat this year. We are worrying over Norristown right now as a real threat to Lower Merion's league aspirations.

Haverford comes to town tomorrow. And if ever the boys from Oakmont should win, this is their game. They have two splendid backs in Forrest and Brunhouse, not to mention McCahan and others who are experienced and capable.

In addition to this, Watson, star linesman, has been out with a jarred rib, and he will be back in the line-up in the Maroon game.

They have been studying Lower Merion's weaknesses, and it looks as though they are going air-minded for this game. The Adamites have been somewhat weak against this type of play, and Cornoy will not let the opportunity pass.

Yes, it looks as if Adam and his boys are in danger of taking it on the chin from their South Ardmore foes for the first time in the short history of their rivalry.

The Maroons are in fair shape. Bob Taylor took a severe bit of punishment against Cheltenham, and, with "General" Johnson out of the backfield, it will not be up to its best strength.

Coach Harvey Harman and his football team at Penn are probably holding something in reserve for the big games which are coming soon. Don't laugh at the statement that Penn isn't putting out much, and there must be a reason for it. Penn never saw the time she couldn't win from F. & M. by more than two touchdowns if she wanted to. Oh, perhaps they did drop a decision to the Lancastrians way back in the Middle Ages, but not since football meant much to us younger fellows.

Look for a good team at Penn when the heavy opponents begin to camp on Franklin Field.

Warren Lockwood is properly enrolled at Columbia as a freshman, through the college entrance examinations route. Good luck to Warren.

Al Bonniwell was received at Dartmouth, as was Jack Rockwell. They are both nice gents, and will be in the thick of things at the ski-jump institution.

Johnny Eaton went south to college. He's lost somewhere in the wilds of Tennessee in one of those co-ed places.

Of course, we will look for big things from Al D'Amora and Hugh Wynn out at Notre Dame. Four Horsemen are good, but not so good as six horsemen.

Al Mandes has reconsidered, and is enrolled in St. Joseph's College. The crate at Friends' Central is still full of the fruit of victory. We don't think that Haverford School can overturn it.

A Page of Local Home and Garden Information

By ROBERT J. EDGAR

Cooler and drier.

And now—when will it freeze?

The white double Japanese anemone, whirlwind, was a fine companion for blue monkshood, Aconitum Fischeri, in a Bryn Mawr garden. Both do well in partial shade. The anemone is a bit difficult to get established and should be protected in winter. The earlier Chinese anemone, Huphense, is smaller and a rather muddy color.

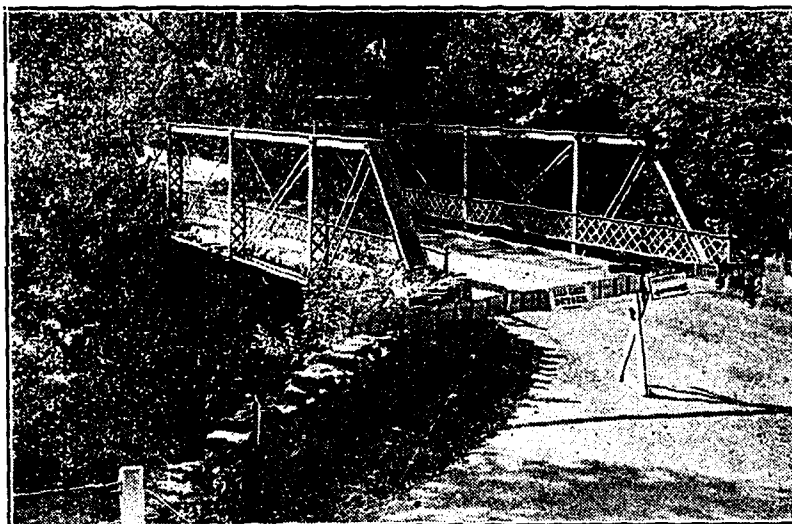

Cimicifuga racemosa is quite a plant. It does well in shade, grows about four feet tall with a white plume. Strange to say, it does well in full sun and in one garden there were some tall spikes of late hybrid delphiniums close by. Not so bad.

When digging gladiolus bulbs paper bags are most convenient to keep the varieties, or colors, separate. The label may be placed in the bag. The old dry bulb may be removed from the bottom of the new one and all the bulbs will keep better after a day in the sun. The stalks may be cut off before the bulbs are put away in a cool place where they will not mold and where they will not be dried up.

Digging dahlia clumps without breaking all the necks of the new tubers is quite a trick. One way is to cut the old stem to about three inches from the surface and then remove about two inches of soil from the tubers. Next provide two diggers, each with a forked spade, and let them loosen the clump and then remove it, gently but firmly, from the ground. The idea is to get the clump of tubers without breaking their necks. Handle gently, dry in the sun a day and then place where they will not freeze, will not be dried out and will not be moist enough to mold. Some gardeners leave some soil on the tubers and some wash the clumps with a hose. Some growers keep the clumps in boxes or barrels lined with newspapers and some cover them with peat moss. The labels should be fastened to the old stems when the tops are cut off.

And now for the drives and walks to see our countryside in its most colorful dress of the season, the changing colors of autumn. Frost is not necessary to the coloring and falling of the leaves. Plants reach a point of maturity, some earlier and some later. Carolina poplars and black walnut trees are the earliest to fall, while some of the oaks hold their leaves all winter after the green coloring matter has ceased to function.

The equinoctial storms due in September were conspicuous by their absence and unless there is considerable rainfall in the next month the spring of 1932 will be very difficult for trees and plants of all kinds. A wet fall means a good spring season. The ground should be moist when it freezes in winter in order that it may be moist when it thaws out in spring. And a wet fall means that the trees and shrubs have good conditions for forming buds for next spring's leaves and blossoms. Owners of small gardens are fortunate in being able to water artificially. For larger gardens we will have to pray for normal rainfall.

at St. John's Church

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Newhall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Newhall, of "Walnut Cottage," Narberth, and Mr. W. Morgan Churchman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory tone satin made on plain lines. The V-neck bodice was made with long tight-fitting sleeves with a puff effect at the elbow. The low V in the back was filled with lace. Her train, formed of folds of the skirt, extended from the waistline. Her veil of tulle was arranged in cap effect with a band of plaited tulle across the forehead and a band of small orange blossoms at the back. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Dorothy Clay was the maid of honor and wore a model of ice green chiffon made with a long full skirt and a sleeveless bodice with sleeveless jacket of the same tone velvet and a hat of ice green velvet. She carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Margaretta Duane, Miss Barbara Gerhard, Miss Virginia Marshall, Miss Margaret Fisher, Miss Louise Gay, Miss Helen West Leidy, of Baltimore, wore gowns of pale yellow chiffon, with yellow velvet sleeveless jackets and hats of yellow velvet. They carried bouquets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr. Churchman was the best man for his son and the ushers included Mr. Richard W. Churchman, Mr. Philip Ludwell Leidy, Mr. John L. Fox, Mr. G. Paul Seabreeze, Mr. Morton Jenks, Mr. Peter O. Horwitz, of Detroit; Mr. Samuel P. Howe, of Pine Valley, and Mr. Percy G. Melville, of New York.

Gardeners May Seek Aid from New Library Book

Nearly every one who has been struggling more or less successfully through the past season in order to perfect a flower garden is now in these autumn days centering all hopes on the plans for next year. What to plant in this place to produce color in the fall, or in August, what to grow in that for better color arrangement, are some of the thoughts uppermost in the minds of all gardeners.

Answering these questions and many others of a similar nature is the compact little volume by H. Stuart Ortloff called "Perennial Gardens," a gift from Mrs. C. T. Faries, the donor of many of the library's garden books. This little book gives in effect the trained help of a landscape architect. It describes and illustrates almost every conceivable kind of small garden suitable for almost any kind of lot. It is well illustrated with diagrams of plantings for the side lot, for one outlining a hedge of shrubs. It gives a plan for a square garden, for an oval one, one for summer bloom, one for all season, and an expandable one that may be increased with the years.

The directions for the preparation, the care and maintenance of the garden are given, and lists of plants to be used in each design.

Mr. Ortloff is a trained landscape architect who understands the problems of the small place. He is a frequent contributor to garden magazines, and he lectures to garden clubs and similar organizations. This book will help to solve many a problem of the amateur gardener.

Named Health Aide. Mrs. Coyetta Childs, of Merion, has been appointed information secretary of the Philadelphia Health Council and Tuberculosis Committee. She was formerly on the staff of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago and the tuberculosis division of the Board of Health of Detroit. She will have charge for the Health Council of bringing tuberculosis sufferers in contact with clinics and sanatoria where they can obtain medical treatment.

Candidates for Rhodes Scholarships. Two seniors at Haverford College, C. B. Allendorfer and F. R. Walton, will be candidates of the college for two of the four Rhodes Scholarships granted in the district of which Pennsylvania is a part, according to a faculty announcement this week.

Narberth School Notes

The enrollment in the Narberth Public Schools for the year 1931-32 is as follows: Kindergarten, 40; Grade 1, 54; Grade 2, 57; Grade 3, 56; Grade 4, 63; Grade 5, 56; Grade 6, 61; Grade 7, 64; Grade 8, 80; total, 526.

Of this group the new pupils number as follows: Kindergarten, 40; Grade 1, 24; Grade 2, 4; Grade 3, 7; Grade 4, 9; Grade 5, 8; Grade 6, 2; Grade 7, 2; Grade 8, 10; total, 108.

The total enrollment for last year was 435 exclusive of the eighth grade.

A census taken in the school for the State Department of the number of unemployed workers in the families represented by the school population showed a surprisingly low percentage of unemployed workers. Approximately 4 1-3% of the regularly employed on part or full time was found to be unemployed at the present time.

The school cafeteria is expected to be ready for service on Monday. New equipment includes a steam table, ice cream refrigerator, four new tables, fifty new metal stools as well as additional facilities for dishwashing, storage, etc. Pupils will be told today the definite date for the cafeteria opening.

Narberth met and defeated her first soccer rival, 3-1, in a hard-fought contest at Lower Merion Junior High field on Monday, October 12. Lower Merion picked her team from the eighth grade and Narberth from her eighth and seventh grades.

The Red and Gray team started off poorly but gained their stride in the later part of the first quarter. The first period ended with no score although the ball was in Merion's territory most of the time.

In the second quarter Tapp scored the first goal and Narberth's few rooters rejoiced. Not long after Merion got through our halfbacks to score a perfect point and the half ended each having scored once.

In the second half Mr. Weatherall's coaching began to show and Lentz and Wiedeman scored. In the closing minutes of the game many substitutions were made, but the center, right full and goal stayed the same.

We hope our season will continue as it has begun.

RICHARD WHITNEY, Eighth.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

So far, in gym this year, the eighth grade girls have been playing hockey. They have practice every Monday and Wednesday afternoons after school.

A few days ago we elected captains for the red and gray teams. Louise Megee, captain of the Reds, and Lois Enz, captain of the Grays, were elected. Then captains were elected for the hockey teams. Helen Chubb for the Grays and Eunice Griswold for the Reds.

As yet Miss Church has made no schedule for the games.

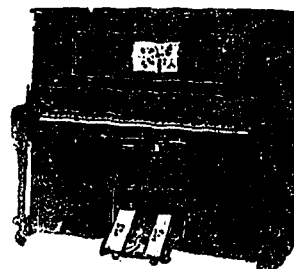

EUNICE GRISWOLD, Eighth.
